

Exhibit I

Altice Management Team

FILED

6-03-15
04:59 PM

A1506005

Management of Altice Directors, Officers, and Key Personnel

Patrick Drahi (Executive Chairman)

Patrick Drahi began his professional career with the Philips Group in 1988 where he was in charge of international marketing (UK, Ireland, Scandinavia, Asia) in satellite and cable TV (DTH, CATV, MMDS).

In 1991, Patrick joined the US/Scandinavian group Kinnevik-Millisat, where he was in charge of the development of private cable networks in Spain and France and was involved in the launch of commercial TV stations in Eastern Europe.

In 1993, Patrick Drahi founded CMA, a consulting firm specialised in telecommunications and media, which was awarded a mandate from BCTV for the implementation of Beijing's full service cable network.

In addition, Patrick founded two cable companies, Sud Câble Services (1994) and Médiaréseaux (1995), where he was involved in several buy-outs. When Médiaréseaux was taken over by UPC at the end of 1999, Patrick Drahi advised UPC on its M&A activities until mid-2000. He then started Altice in 2002.

Patrick Drahi graduated from the Ecole Polytechnique and Ecole Nationale Supérieure de Télécommunications de Paris (post graduate degree in Optics and Electronics) in 1986.

Dexter Goei (CEO)

Dexter Goei joined Altice in 2009, after working for 15 years in investment banking. Dexter began his investment banking career with JP Morgan and joined Morgan Stanley in 1999 working in their Media & Communications Group.

Over the years, Dexter has worked across all segments of the media industry in the US and EMEA region covering primarily cable, pay TV, broadcasting, Internet, content and gaming companies eventually becoming Co-Head of Morgan Stanley's European TMT Group.

Dexter is a graduate of Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service with cum laude honours.

Dennis Okhuijsen (CFO)

Dennis Okhuijsen joined as the CFO of the Altice Group in September 2012. Before joining Altice, he was the Treasurer for Liberty Global. From 1993-1996, he was a senior accountant at Arthur Andersen.

He joined UPC in 1996 where he was responsible for accounting, treasury and investor relations up to 2005 before joining Liberty Global.

In his previous capacities, he was also responsible for financial risk management, treasury and operational financing.

Dennis holds a Master of Business Economics from Erasmus University, Rotterdam.

Jérémie Bonnin (General Secretary, Head of Corporate and Business Development)

Jérémie Bonnin joined Altice in May 2005 as Corporate Finance director.

Before joining Altice, he was a Manager in the Transaction Services department at KPMG which he joined in 1998. At KPMG, he led several due diligence projects with a significant focus in the telecom area.

Since his appointment at Altice, he has been involved in all of Altice's acquisitions which have increased Altice's international footprint (in France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Israel, the French Overseas Territories and the Dominican Republic).

He has a long track record of successful cross-border transactions, and in financial management in the telecom sector. As General Secretary, he also focuses on the implementation of consistent operating policies and corporate structure across the Altice Group, where he holds various board positions.

Jeremie received his engineering degree from the Institut d'Informatique d'Entreprise in France in 1998. He also graduated from the DECF in France, equivalent to the CPA.

Michel Combes (Independent Non-Executive Director)

Michel Combes has been Chief Executive Officer of Alcatel-Lucent since April 2013.

He has more than 20 years of experience in the telecommunications sector and a strong international background. Michel was previously Executive Director of the global mobile communications operator Vodafone plc, where he was appointed CEO, Europe Region in October 2008.

In addition to his position as CEO of Alcatel-Lucent, Michel is also Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Assystem SA in France and non-executive board member of MTS.

Scott Matlock (Independent Non-Executive Director)

Scott Matlock recently retired from Morgan Stanley & Co., where he was an investment banker for 25 years. He was the Global Head of Media and Communications M&A from 2005 to 2008, the Chairman of Asia M&A (including Australia, India and Japan) from 2008 through to 2010, and the Chairman of International M&A from 2010 to 2014.

Scott started his career at Morgan Stanley focused on transportation, industrial and technology companies. In 1997, he switched his focus to the media and communications sectors. When he moved to London in 2002, he became the Head of European Media Coverage and then the Co-Head of European Media and Communications Coverage for the firm. Scott was responsible for some of Morgan Stanley's most important clients and transactions in the media and communication sectors. Sectors on which he has been particularly focused have included cable, mobile/cellular, satellite and broadcast.

Scott graduated from the University of California, Berkeley in 1988.

Jean-Luc Allavena (Independent Non-Executive Director)

Jean-Luc Allavena was elected as the Chairman of the Board of the French-American Foundation – France in December, 2010.

He was selected as a “Young Leader” of the French-American Foundation in 2001 and has served as a member of the Board since 2008.

Jean-Luc Allavena is a Partner in the investment fund, Apollo Management.

Mr. Allavena graduated from the Hautes études commerciales (HEC Paris) in the class of 1986. He began his career at the Paribas Bank (1986-88), then at Lyonnaise des Eaux (1989-1992). He then went on to serve as Assistant General Manager of the group, Techpack International (Pechiney-LBO France) from 1996 -2000, and then served as CFO from 1992 à 1996. From 2000 à 2005, he was the Executive Vice-President of the Group Lagardère Media.

At the same time, he was the acting administrator of Lagardère Active as well as the three other branches of the Group: Hachette Livre, Hachette Filipacchi Médias, and Hachette Distribution Services.

A native of Monaco, Mr. Allavena served as the Chief of Staff to Prince Albert II of Monaco from 2005 – 2006. In 2007, he joined Apollo Management in London, where he is responsible for the fund's investments in France. He engineered the purchase of Alcan Engineered Products by Apollo and the French Strategic Investment Fund.

Mr. Allavena is involved in a number of organizations. He serves on the international advisory board of HEC as well as the Chairman of the HEC Alumni Association from 2001 – 2003 and then the HEC Foundation from 2003 – 2005. Today, he is honorary Chairman of both groups. Since 2009, Mr. Allavena is also on the board of the French Association of Capital Investors (AFIC) and also the Jacques Rougerie Foundation since 2010 under the patronage of the Institute of France.

Emilie Schmitz

Emilie Schmitz joined Altice S.A. in 2014 as portfolio manager and accounting supervisor. She serves on the Board of Directors of several Altice holding companies.

She began her career as a junior accountant of Cogent Europe in 2005 before acting briefly as a Settlements administrator of State Street Bank until 2006, when she joined Deloitte Corporate Services, where she was a senior advisor in charge of corporate, audit and trust services. From 2009 to 2013, she served as a manager of Centralis S.A. before joining Quilvest Services S.à.r.l., also as a manager.

Emilie holds a Higher Diploma in Accountancy and Management accounting and management from the Lycee La Salle.

Laurent Godineau

Laurent joined Altice as in October 2014. He serves on the Board of Directors of several Altice holding companies.

He began his professional career in 1999 at Menarini (Pharmaceuticals) in Luxembourg, as an International Finance Controller, where he was in charge of the administrative, finance, tax and social issues and supervision of the accounting.

In 2007, Laurent joined Alter Domus S.à.r.l as a Senior Advisor, and in 2007 he joined Cemec as a Branch Manager, in charge of the daily management of Luxembourgish companies, including international control of the financing activities of the Cemex group.

In 2009, he joined Centralis S.A. as a Managing Director in charge of the daily management, financial engineering, tax issues, domiciliation and legal areas for numerous clients of Centralis S.A.

From June 2013 to September 2014, Laurent served as a director of Quilvest Luxembourg Services S.A., where he supervised the implementation of the new CSSF requirements in terms of domiciliation managed and developed a portfolio of 50 clients in commercial, real estate and financial industries, and supervised a team of accountants in relation to a portfolio of international clients.

Laurent Godineau is a graduate of master in International Business & Finance of the University of Reading and Business School of Brittany in Brest (E.S.C – Sup de Co). He also holds a Master in Accounting, Tax and Business law.